RAINBOW DAYLILY GARDENS

P. O. Box 644
LEESBURG, FLORIDA

FOREWORD

We wish to take this opportunity to thank our many friends and customers for the orders received this past season.

To those of you who recommended us to your gardening friends we say "thank you."

We shall as in the past send out quality plants that are full of vigor. Plants that will live and grow and give satisfaction.

Our plants are carefully grown and have that vigorous root system needed for rapid establishment in your garden. They are not "blown up" with fertilizer nor are they irrigated.

This year all plants shipped will be treated against mold and decay. This process also tends to heal all roots which have been trimmed.

Remember most daylilies are hardy, disease and insect resistant and will give more satisfaction for your investment than any other perennial we know.

To those who are receiving this catalog for the first time, we hope you too, will join our list of satisfied customers.

Wishing you every success with your 1954 garden venture and that your garden will be an outstanding one. We remain,

Sincerely,

Rainbow Daylily Gardens.

PLANTING & CARE

Plant either in full sun or where they will receive about six hours of sun daily. Reds & some of the other deep colors are best planted where they receive some protection from the hot sun, such as on the East or North Side of shrubbery borders. High drifting shade is fine but avoid planting in those densely shaded areas.

Space plants about two ft. apart. Spread out roots and set to a depth so that ground level will be one inch above point where roots and foliage meet.

Mix a handful of bone meal and one or two of sheep manure into the soil for each plant when setting. Compost is excellent incorporated into the soil. Do not over fertilize. Water well until established. If planted in hot weather a wise precaution is to shade plant until growth starts.

Daylilies need a good growing season to become well established. The bloom on newly set plants may be somewhat off size and off color. Given a little time they reward the grower generously year after year.

REGIONAL PERFORMERS

As daylilies are regional performers it is wise to consult growers or your local garden club as to which varieties do best in your particular section.

HARDINESS

Nearly all varieties are hardy from Canada to Cuba. Some have asked if daylilies grown in Florida are hardy in the North? "Yes, they are," as hardiness is inherent in the variety and does not depend upon where it is grown.

RECURRENT BLOOMERS

Most all varieties we list bloom several times yearly here in the South and many will repeat in the North.

ONE OR A THOUSAND

Should you wish only one plant to add to your collection, or should you require a thousand or more for naturalizing we will be pleased to fill your order.

GUARANTEE

We guarantee all our stock to be healthy, freshly dug and true to name. All named varieties properly labeled. We use utmost care in packing and guarantee plants to reach you in good condition. If any error occurs replacements or refund will be promptly made.

ORDER EARLY

Our stock of lilies is fairly large but we always sell out of certain varieties so we advise ordering early or reserving same for future delivery. All orders filled in the sequence received.

SUBSTITUTION

We do not substitute unless you advise us to. We refund your money immediately on any portion of your order that we cannot furnish.

TIME OF SHIPMENT

We start filling orders early in March and continue until end of December for Florida planting. We do not advise planting later than early in September in the Northern sections. Plants should become established so that loss or injury will not result.

PRICES

Our prices are based on strong divisions properly cut back for transplanting. Orders of $3.00 or more are postpaid except where noted otherwise in this catalog. On orders of under $3.00 add 25c. Kindly add 10c exchange on checks. Make all checks or money orders payable to RAINBOW DAYLILY GARDENS, P. O. Box 644, Leesburg, Florida.

GROUP PLANTING

Due to the high price of some scarce and choice daylilies most collectors plant these in special beds or devote an entire garden to them.

However with the advent of good varieties at moderate prices the tendency has been to plant them generously in clumps or drifts or one color.

We quote from John V. Watkins, Associate Professor of Horticulture, University of Florida.

"Daylilies are most effective when grown in clumps of three or more plants in the bays of informal shrubbery borders. Spotting a plant here, another there is usually not successful with most perennials and especially with daylilies, so clump or drift planting is thought to be best."

"If colors are grouped separately in these drifts, perhaps the best effects will be obtained. Thus, daylilies become harmonious color notes of accent in front of the deep green of the permanent shrubbery that forms the backdrop of the garden. In this method of planting the forms of order known as unity, harmony, rhythm and sequence will be served and your garden scheme will be greatly benefitted."

Should you wish to plant a large number of lilies write us, stating your needs, and we'll be glad to quote quantity prices.

MIXTURE OF UNNAMED DAYLILIES

This year again we are offering a select mixture of unnamed daylilies. These being ideal for landscaping, shrubbery borders, parks, etc.

We flower thousands of seedlings yearly. These being raised from carefully hand pollinated seeds. Of these a few are set aside for further testing. The balance being too close in color to already named varieties are sold in mixture and offer a most excellent value.

The lilies in this mixture have already bloomed for the past two to four seasons and all culls have been removed.

Do not confuse these with the small single division plants that are generally sold in bargain mixtures. Our plants are large and vigorous with strong root systems that establish quickly into showy clumps.

The color range is wide, running from shades of lemon and gold to dark reds, bicolors, etc.

We sold thousands during the past seasons to satisfied customers and we feel sure that they will please you too.

Place your order early. Shipping generally starts March 15th and continues until early in August.

Due to the heavy plants and the low prices these lilies are priced F.O.B. and are shipped express charges collect.

FANCY LEAVED CALADIUMS

Due to many requests for this excellent and colorful plant we have decided to add them to our listing this season.

We have obtained a fine stock direct from a well-known grower who specializes in their culture.

These gorgeously colored foliage plants are of easiest culture, either in pots, window boxes or open ground. They delight in heat and moisture. Partial shade is preferred.

In planting use a mixture of well rotted cow manure and sandy leaf mold or leaf mold and peat. Plant smaller size bulbs one to a 5-inch pot and the larger in at least a 6-inch pot. Large bulbs make showier specimens as the leaves will be more numerous and larger.

In open ground plant about 2 inches deep. When foliage starts dying down, dig, dry off and store as any other tender bulb. Replant next season.

Available from March through early Summer. Select Rainbow Mixture (all colors), priced as follows. Per dozen, postpaid, 1 to 1½ inch size, $1.75; 1½ to 2 inches, $2.50.

Write for prices on large quantities. We can save you money.
